

A Brief report on Media coverage during the AIIL Inauguration

The African Institute of International Law (AIIL) was set up in keeping with the spirit of the United Nations General Assembly Resolution 2099 (XX) of December 20, 1965, to contribute towards a better knowledge of international law as a means of strengthening international peace and security and promoting friendly relations and cooperation among States. In addition, it is meant to contribute to strengthening the rule of law both domestically and internationally within the African continent.

On Monday February, 2015 the Tanzania Deputy Minister for Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation Honourable Mahadhi Juma Maalim officially inaugurated the institute.

The Institute invited member of the Media to participate and cover the inauguration ceremony, which was held in Mbayuwayu Hall of the Arusha International Conference Centre (AICC). The invited media houses include TBC 1, ITV, Star TV, Channel Ten, The Guardian, Daily News, The Citizen and The Arusha Times Newspapers. Apart from the invited media, other media that covered the event were Radio One and the East African Radio.

Below is a summary of the coverage: -

SN	MEDIA	LEVEL OF COVERAGE
1.	TBC 1	Evening News Bulletin and repeated in the morning and afternoon
2.	Channel Ten	Evening News Bulletin and repeated in the morning and afternoon
3.	ITV	Evening News Bulletin and repeated in the morning and afternoon
4.	Star TV	Evening News Bulletin and repeated in the morning and afternoon
5.	Radio One	Aired on evening news, morning and afternoon
6.	East African Radio	Aired on evening news, morning and afternoon
7.	The Guarding Newspaper	Article + Picture
8.	The Citizen Newspaper	Article + Picture
9.	Daily News	article
10.	The Arusha Times	To be out on Saturday 21 st February, 2015

Attached are the Newspaper coverage clippings

Prepared by: Rodney Thadeus